

Letter of Support for International Congress of Abdominal Wall Surgery

Dear Congress-President

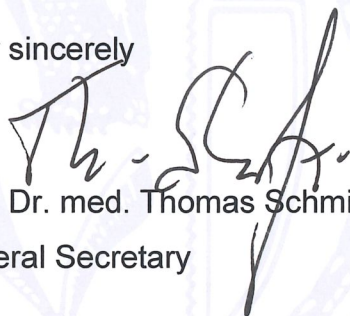

On behalf of the German Society of Surgery, I am pleased to express our strong support for the International Congress of Abdominal Wall Surgery to be held in Berlin on June 2030.

The German Society of Surgery is a leading scientific organization dedicated to advancing surgical practice, education, and research in the total field of surgery. With a membership of over 5.000 full members and 22.000 associate members across Germany, our society is actively engaged in promoting high standards of patient care, scientific exchange, and international collaboration.

We recognize the International Congress of Abdominal Wall Surgery as an outstanding international event that will bring together experts, foster innovations, and facilitate the dissemination of cutting-edge knowledge in surgery. The scientific focus and international scope of this meeting are highly aligned with our mission and values. We are pleased to support this initiative and would be excited to contribute through participation of our members, promotion of the meeting, and potential active involvement.

The German Society of Surgery and its members will support this great project to the best of their ability.

Your sincerely

Prof. Dr. med. Thomas Schmitz-Rixen

General Secretary
